

From autumn 2020, the law
around organ
and tissue donation in Scotland is changing to an 'opt out'
system.

If you are aged 16 or over, you will be considered as a possible donor after you die – unless you opt out. Whatever you decide, let your family know so they can honour your decision.

To find out more, including how to opt out, visit organdonationscotland.org

Healthier Scotland
Scottish
Government